The Role

This role delivers a range of dynamic and engaging financial education programmes to young people, adults, and professionals.

As part of our Programmes and Delivery Directorate, our trainers love working with our participants; they're the front line of our work, representing Money Ready's exceptional programme quality in a range of settings.

This role will work predominantly with young adult and adults, delivering our programmes to a wide range of learners, such as care-leavers, young mums and refugees. There may also be the opportunity to do some delivery with children too.

This role will require significant travel to our delivery locations throughout the North Hub, but with a particular focus on delivery in the North East area to run face-to-face sessions to diverse groups of learners. Occasional virtual sessions may also need to be delivered. All delivery-related travel is covered.

We are proud of the quality of trainers we hire, and we have a good mix of people, including former primary and secondary teachers and youth workers.

You will be joining an excellent team in the North, so there will be ample opportunity for you to learn and to provide feedback on where our programmes might improve. You do not need to be an existing expert on financial education; we will train you on everything you need to know.

Key Responsibilities:

Programme Delivery

- Deliver Money Ready's suite of programmes in a variety of settings to support the delivery of our business plan and the Programme and Delivery Directorate's Delivery Plan.
- Deliver to the Money Ready education and accreditation framework, ensuring learners have an excellent shot at achieving the programme accreditation.
- Adapting your delivery to meet the needs and learning requirements of diverse participants, often thinking on your feet and adapting to what is happening in the room.
- Completion of all Money Ready processes that surround our delivery work. Investing your time in your own development by learning from your colleagues and finessing your delivery craft. This will include participating in our internal training offer.

Key Responsibilities:

Programme Development

- Using your insight and experience to help support changes to our current programmes in a structured and thoughtful way, for example, through developing content.
- Support Money Ready in engaging with learners to help develop our programmes as we move the organisation into a co-creation mindset. Take ownership of programme adaptation and development, considering the
- differing needs of delivery across the country and allowing diversity of thought to thrive.
Support Money Ready in innovating into new programme areas that
- help deliver our mission.

Key responsibilities:

External relations

- Build relationships with delivery partners across your patch.
- Proactively identify new opportunities where we can deliver our programmes or grow our work in a different way. Initial focus on our courses catering to vulnerable young adults.
- Be the best ambassador for our work to all external stakeholders, including young people, delivery partners, politicians, funders, the press, the wider education community, local authorities and so on.

Working across Money Ready

- Work with colleagues across the country as we continue to develop and grow the organisation.
- Contribute to areas of the organisation that are 'outside' your immediate focus, acting as trusted counsel to those in roles or teams that are different to yours.
- Embed yourself into the organisation, recognising that our strategy and business plan are yours to deliver and that our culture is shaped with you and by you.

Person specification:

You will need to show:

Experience

- Demonstrable experience of delivering education, training and/or other outreach work.

- Demonstrable experience of your own commitment to learning and development.

Person specification:

Skills and abilities

- A confident and engaging delivery style.
- Ability to adapt your delivery style to a range of contexts and learner stages and to support some learners to achieve accreditation.
